Reading Engagement at Home

Fonetti
The read-aloud app

Teacher shares heartwarming success story about one of their pupils.

“Her mum works in the evenings, and her dyslexic dad, who struggles with reading and writing, used to avoid reading with her at home. The family felt there was no point in reading together as her father couldn't correct her mistakes.

However, I've been persistently encouraging them to read with her, and thanks to Fonetti, it removes the fear of dad having the worry that he's not going to be able to say the words if she gets it wrong. The family quickly realised the benefits of Fonetti.

Within just 3 weeks of using the Fonetti app at home, I've witnessed remarkable progress in the child's reading ability. She now reads for an average of 20 to 30 minutes in the evenings, a significant improvement from before.

It's truly heartening to see such positive changes.”
